Just to let you know that I have just spoken to Simon about our discussion and likely Cabinet position. The feedback that I have received is that this is likely to add at least 6 to 8 weeks to the timeline and starts to have a material impact on the overall timelines due to knock on impact on commissioning survey work. I have nonetheless asked Simon and the team to look whether we could seek further assurance within a reasonable timescale and the CES Board will consider the practicalities of delivering this and we will weigh this up along with all the other associated risks.

Best
